

SAVE TIBET NETWORK

WORK FOR PEACE
TAKE ACTION
NOW!

Please help save lives in Tibet by signing and mailing this letter.

The signed petitions will be taken to the Japanese government, Chinese government, and the United Nations before Hu Jintao visits Japan.

The citizens of Japan are showing serious concern regarding the recent brutal crackdown by the Chinese government on peaceful Tibetan demonstrators. Since the 10th of March 2008, the Chinese government has been using armed forces in the capital city of Tibet, Lhasa, and then in neighboring provinces (Qinghai (Amdo), Gansu and Yunnan (Kham) as the demonstrations spread.

On March 22nd 2008, around 1500 people voluntarily gathered in Roppongi (Tokyo) for a demonstration demanding that the Chinese government immediately stop the violent suppression, human rights violations, genocide and other restrictions of freedom against the Tibetan people.

On this day, Mr. Seishu Makino, a leading supporter of freedom in Tibet as well as the founder of Japan Parliamentarian Group for Tibet, spoke to those who had gathered from all over Japan. "I am sure that all gathered here today will be seen as "apostles of peace" in the future. While it may still take time for Tibet to become free, let' s combine everyone' s passion for peace and compassion into a network of supporters." And with this single voice, the Save Tibet Network was born.

People who want to save lives in Tibet, who want human rights for Tibet, who cannot ignore the genocide, who oppose every kind of violence, who wish for peace in the world, and who believe that love can change the world. We all have this same hope. The Save Tibet Network connects all of these individual' s "will" and "power" into a single force to take action for Tibet when Hu Jintao visits Japan in May, the Toyako Summit in July, and at the Beijing Olympics in August. The Save Tibet Network will take action co-operating with the Japan Parliamentarian Group for Tibet, Tibet Support Network Japan, Tibetan Community in Japan, Human Rights groups in Japan, and Tibet support groups from all over the world.

What is the Save Tibet Network?

The Save Tibet Network is a place that connects individuals who are serious about the Tibet issue and want to do something about it. All those who share the same goals are welcome to participate. The Save Tibet Network does not belong to any other groups or organizations. Instead it is comprised of various support groups inside and outside of Japan.
